Small Works Exhibit

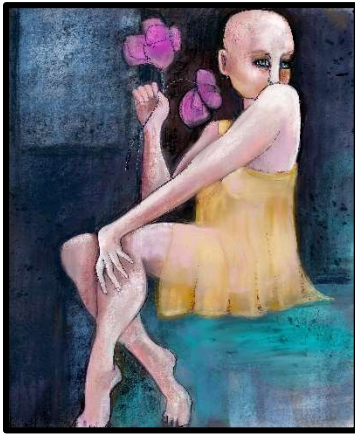

Reception: Saturday January 14th, 2:00 – 5:00 pm

Featured Artist: Suki Michelle Clark

After a childhood consumed by dedicated doodling, Suki studied drawing and painting at Kansas City Art Institute, earning a Bachelor's in Fine Arts.

She also enjoys a creative outlet in the literary arts having won First Place in both the Women on Writing Flash Fiction Competition and the Faulkner Literary Competition, Poetry Division. She is currently illustrating a selection of her written work.

After many decades creating, Suki has yet to become loyal to a particular style and is often surprised by the direction a piece may take, be it abstract, realistic, or somewhere in between. In all cases, she works impulsively with underlying intent, surrendering to the image as it emerges on its own terms.

Suki has artistic adventures with many types of media from pencil to paint, polymer clay to Procreate, a digital painting software. Her latest obsession is tissue decoupage.

Much of her work is available in many formats from throw pillows to prints at: suki-michelle.pixels.com
